

and outmoded programs which soak the American taxpayer for hundreds of millions of dollars while providing precious little in return.

We promised we would balance the budget, not by raising taxes but by cutting wasteful spending. This is a perfect example, the Department of Commerce, of wasteful spending.

Mr. Speaker, we have to crack down on corporate welfare, and the Department of Commerce is a good place to begin. It is little more than a welfare department for big corporations. We should have the courage to eliminate it.

ART MODELL MUST OBEY CLEVELAND'S LAWS

(Mr. TRAFICANT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. TRAFICANT. Mr. Speaker, year in and year out, the Cleveland Browns averaged 70,000 paying fans a game, but owner Art Modell says that is not enough. He said he is losing money. Who is kidding whom? This move to Baltimore is nothing but a sweetheart deal for Modell and a raw deal for the city of Cleveland.

Mr. Speaker, what is the surprise? Anyone who would fire Paul Brown, trade Paul Warfield, and cut outright Bernie Kozar does not know the meaning of loyalty or community. I am asking the Ohio attorney general to enforce the contract between Cleveland Browns and the city of Cleveland. If the fine print is binding on those in the dog pound and Mayor White, the fine print should be binding on Art Modell.

THE DEMOCRATS' STRANGE VIEW OF THE BUDGET PROCESS

(Mr. WALKER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, over the last several weeks, we have heard some fascinating dialog as we have discussed the budget. I think it has been particularly interesting. The Democrats, bless their hearts, have a very strange view of this whole budget process.

For example, when we actually cut spending, as we are doing in the Defense Department, so we are spending less in 1995 or in 1996 than we spent in 1995, they call that an increase; but when we increase spending in programs like Medicare above what we are spending in 1995, they call that a cut. No wonder the budgets of the United States were so screwed up for 40 years while they managed this place.

THE REPUBLICANS' ONGOING WAR AGAINST MEDICARE

(Mr. BROWN of Ohio asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BROWN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, 2 weeks ago this Congress cut $270 billion in Medicare while increasing Pentagon spending $7 billion more than the Pentagon itself even asked for. Why? The Speaker has said and the Republican majority has said they want to preserve and protect Medicare. They want to save it by cutting it.

Let us look at a bit of history. In 1965, when Medicare was created, 87 percent of Republicans voted against its creation.

□ 1415

In the next 20 and 30 years, Republican Members of Congress continued to try to cut Medicare. In this year, Speaker GINGRICH said, now, we did not get rid of Medicare in round one because we do not think that is politically smart, but we believe it is going to wither on the vine. That is why they are cutting Medicare. They are cutting Medicare in order to let it wither on the vine and they are cutting Medicare in order to give $245 billion in tax cuts to the wealthy. Mr. Speaker, it simply does not make sense.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BALANCE THE BUDGET

(Mrs. SEASTRAND asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. SEASTRAND. Mr. Speaker, the discussion going on here in Congress about balancing the Federal budget will continue on the floor this week. I think it is important to remember that every day, all across this country, millions of American families gather at the kitchen table to balance the family budget. They do not make excuses, they just do the right thing for the family.

I believe now is the time for the House and Senate to gather around the kitchen table of America and do what is right for America's future. We need to balance the budget, reform welfare, and cut taxes so that the American family will be able to keep more of their own, hard-earned paycheck. The growing expectation for a balanced budget has already caused long-term interest rates to fall, according to Alan Greenspan.

No more talking about balancing the budget, no more reading about it. Let's just do it. Let's work together at the kitchen table for the good of our Nation.

HOSPITALS WILL BE FORCED TO CHARGE MORE

(Ms. DELAURO asked and was given permission to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Speaker, it is not just seniors who will be asked to pay more under the Republican Medicare bill. Businesses and working people can expect to see that their health care costs are going to rise as well. In today's health care system, private patients and their insurers pay the price for the uninsured. This cost shifting will accelerate under the Republican Medicare proposal.

According to a story that ran this weekend in the New York Times, as Medicare payments fall short of covering the cost of care, hospitals will be forced to make up the difference by charging their private patients more. Many people who work for small businesses could also lose their insurance altogether.

An independent health care research firm, Lewin VHI, estimates that $66 billion will be shifted on to the privately insured. That is too big of a burden for our small businesses, and yet another reason to oppose the Republican Medicare cuts.

A HERO IN WAR, HE DIED FOR PEACE

(Mr. CHRISTENSEN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CHRISTENSEN. Mr. Speaker, the epitaph of Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin could fill volumes. He served his country tirelessly. He helped lead her to triumph in the 1967 war. He won the Nobel Prize for his efforts to bring her an everlasting peace.

Prime Minister Rabin had the rare ability to bring diverse people together in the pursuit of peace. He earned the admiration and the respect of the people of Israel and people throughout the world. I am shocked and saddened that such a brave man would be brought down so brutally.

So, in the great shadow of his loss, this is a sad time for Israel, America, and the world. Our thoughts and prayers are with Mr. Rabin's family and with the people of one of America's closest allies, Israel. He will go down in history as a hero in war, he died for peace.

DAVID ROHDE HELD HOSTAGE

(Mr. HOYER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, as the peace negotiations between the warring parties in the Bosnian conflict continue in Dayton, an American journalist continues to be incarcerated and held hostage by the Bosnian Serbs.

David Rohde, a journalist for the Christian Science Monitor, was responsible for exposing the killing fields near Srebrenica in eastern Bosnia. He is now being held in captivity, detained by those responsible, the Bosnian Serbs. They have charged him with, and I quote, "Illegal border crossings and falsifying documents." He has been tried and convicted by what our own State Department has called, rightfully, a kangaroo court. He has, Mr.

Speaker, become a pawn of the Serbs in their peace negotiations.

I suspect that Milosevic and his gang think they can use David Rohde as a bargaining chip in order to have us reduce our demands that the Serbs remove war criminals Karakzic and Mladic from their commands as part of any peace agreement. They are wrong.

Mr. Speaker, I am today urging the Clinton administration to demand that David Rohde and other noncombatant personnel, including all U.N. military and civilian personnel, be immediately released.

CONGRESSIONAL LIBERALS VOICE BOGUS CLAIM

(Mr. HERGER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HERGER. Mr. Speaker, liberals here in Congress and in the White House love to claim that Republicans are raising taxes on the poor because of our efforts to reform the earned income tax credit. This claim is bogus and is an outright scare tactic.

EITC was set up in the 1970's to help working, poor families. It was designed to be a tax refund program. Since then, EITC has turned into a welfare program. In fact, only one-quarter of the $21 billion spent on EITC actually go to tax refunds. The other three-fourths go to welfare grants. The program has expanded far beyond its original intent.

In the last 10 years, spending on the program has increased 1,220 percent. This is unsustainable growth.

Mr. Speaker, the American people need to know that we are not raising taxes on poor people. Every family covered by EITC will receive the $500 per-child tax credit and it is an outright fabrication to suggest that reforming EITC is a tax increase.

CLINTON ADMINISTRATION AND AMERICAN PEOPLE HAVE DIF- FERENT PRIORITIES

(Mr. EWING asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, the Clinton administration's top concern these days seems to be raising the debt ceiling; in other words, increasing the Government's credit limit, which will be paid by our grandchildren.

For 11 months now, the Republican Congress has been writing a budget which will be balanced in 7 years. Throughout the whole process, the President has been missing the whole point. He needs to build consensus and accept the agenda of the American people.

Now the President wants us to raise the debt limit when he has not even stated he will sign the balanced budget amendment over a 7-year period, nor has he said he will sign legislation to save Medicare or reform welfare. He wants to increase the debt ceiling and he is fighting nearly every Republican proposal to cut spending and reduce the size of Government.

Mr. Speaker, the Clinton administration's priorities are not the same as the American people. The American people want to clean up this fiscal mess, not increase the Government's credit limit without balancing the budget.

YITZHAK RABIN DEDICATED TO LASTING PEACE

(Mr. FORBES asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. FORBES. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in remembrance of one of the giants of the 20th century, a true hero, Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin.

Prime Minister Rabin, who was tragically taken from us over the weekend, could best be described as one of the Founding Fathers of the State of Israel, and a man dedicated to lasting peace in the Middle East.

As a soldier, he led troops during Israel's War of Independence in 1948. As chief of staff of the Israel Defense Forces, he led Israel to a victory over Arab forces in 1967. As Defense Minister, he strengthened Israel's armies to defend against external threats, and as Prime Minister, he pursued peace with Israel's enemies. Above all else, he was a true patriot, whose commitment to the people of Israel and a secure future for all of its generations to come was unequivocal.

For those of us here in America, he was a friend, a comfortable friend, who we came to know during his time as Israeli Ambassador to the United States.

This past August, my wife, Barbara and I, had the good fortune of spending some time with the Prime Minister and his lovely wife, Leah. During that visit as I toured Israel, it was clear that Prime Minister Rabin was undergoing tremendous pressure from external forces as well as internal forces, as he so valiantly pursued the process of peace. This and so much more shall serve as an enduring legacy of hope and optimism that characterized the rich and full life of Prime Minister Rabin. Our prayers are with the Prime Minister's family and with all Israelis during the most difficult time.

PRIME MINISTER'S LEGACY TO MOVE FORWARD FOR PEACE

(Mr. CARDIN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CARDIN. Mr. Speaker, as a Member of the congressional delegation that attended Mr. Rabin's funeral, let me share with you some of my observations from returning from Jerusalem.

Mr. Rabin was truly a unique individual who pursued peace, and his loss will be deeply felt in the peace process, make no mistake about that. We have lost a unique individual who was committed to bringing about peace.

As President Clinton remarked and as King Hussein of Jordan remarked, the legacy of Mr. Rabin must be to move forward in the peace process. The best way to honor Mr. Rabin's memory is for all of us to rededicate ourselves to peace in the Middle East.

My observations of what is happening in Israel today is that the Israelis are more united, more committed to peace than ever before, and I think that is a fitting tribute to Mr. Rabin's work.

YITZHAK RABIN'S ASSASSINATION

(Mr. KNOLLENBERG asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, on Saturday, November 4, the world suffered a great loss. Prime Minister Rabin's leadership and commitment to peace in the Middle East will be missed.

His untimely death is nothing less than tragic, not only to his family and the people of Israel, but to everyone who yearns for the end of bloodshed in the Middle East.

The United States has always stood beside Israel. Now more than ever, we must reaffirm our commitment to the parties involved in the peace process to ensure that Yitzhak Rabin's vision becomes a reality.

Mr. Speaker, our hearts and prayers go out to the people of Israel and Prime Minister Peres.

The challenges of the future are large, but not insurmountable. Mr. Rabin has shown us that courage and perseverance can win the day. Let us learn from his example.
